

INTERN AND ASSOCIATE ANNOUNCEMENT

About Us

IIHS will create an independent, privately funded, globally-ranked education and action-oriented research institution in India at least at par with the celebrated Indian Institutes of Technology (IITs) and Indian Institutes of Management (IIMs). It will address the challenges of urbanisation through an integrated programme of high quality education, research and knowledge generation, executive training, distance learning, design and advisory services, advocacy and intervention. For more information, see www.iihs.co.in

Job Description

As part of IIHS's detailed higher education regulatory scoping, institutional review, emerging urban research projects as well as curriculum development programme support, we are looking for a law associate and a law intern to assist in research, writing and editing in our New Delhi office. The law associate and the law intern will devote significant amount of her/his time to the following projects:

Higher Education Regulatory Review: A detailed structural review of leading universities in the country, and abroad in the background of law and regulation in India's higher education sector, including innovations developed by leading institutions.

The law associate and the law intern will assist in research, documentation and if appropriate, fieldwork to support this project.

Curriculum Development: The fundamental challenge of the IIHS is to develop an integrated professional interdisciplinary programme that draws upon global best practices. This will be built around a set of 18 disciplines and practice areas identified as central to human settlement growth and transformation in India. We have just embarked on this exciting curriculum development project in collaboration with MIT, USA and UCL, UK. One of the key responsibilities for the law associate and the law intern will be to assist in research and documentation in relevant subject areas related to law and governance, at the local, national and international levels.

Requirements

We are looking for bright and enthusiastic students pursuing their education in law as well as recent law graduates with:

- Good analytical skills and a high degree of proficiency in Excel and Word
- Good communication skills, especially in written English
- Understanding of, particular interest in, and sensitivity towards, policy dimensions of law and governance

Ability to work in a highly inter-disciplinary team and under strict and frequent deadlines The intern and associate positions will be based in Delhi and will be compensated via an appropriate stipend. The search will remain open until the positions are filled. The IIHS is an equal opportunity employer that encourages women, people with disabilities and those from economically and socially excluded communities to apply.
